Thank you. We are currently reviewing our new modeling results (model was re-run after being modified to address peer review comments). If they make sense, they will be sent on to the risk assessors for future risk calculations. So if all goes well, in about a month, we should be able to fill in the risk numbers and PRGs and send around another draft of the Proposed Plan.

Hi Alice – here are my comments. When will the next version come our way?
